SUBJECT: Chief Standridge TPCA President

Chief Stan Standridge offers this comment on his new role as the Texas Police Chief's Association new President, "I am humbled to receive this elected position. I recognize the gravity of leading our organization while policing is under close review across our nation. As the voice of professional policing in Texas, we are committed to working alongside our citizens to give them a voice, while also trying to increase the number of Texas agencies who are accredited. Accredited agencies must comply with 170 best practices, thus ensuring our citizens the efficient and effective delivery of service, the reduction of risk, and the protection of individual's rights.

Professional policing is a noble calling, and I am honored to stand with 2,750 law enforcement agencies as we work together to safeguard Texas."

Sent on behalf of Abilene Police Chief Stan Standridge.
